

Standard Locknut Core Restore Program

Save time and money by repurposing existing components

Want to save thousands of dollars on your bearing housing and endcap investments with the Standard Locknut Core Restore Program?

Send your old housing with endcaps to us and our team of experts will examine them to determine if they can be restored - potentially adding life to existing industrial components and saving you thousands of dollars.

Our exclusive Core Restore Program benefits the environment AND your bottom line. All Core Restore housings are precision engineered and machined in our Westfield, Indiana manufacturing facilities.

Maximize savings & minimize downtime

We manufacture and distribute original and restored bearing housings, pillow blocks, and assemblies to help you maximize your bearing and assembly investments while minimizing costly equipment downtime.

We've spent years working with organizations in a variety of industries to solve application challenges, increase uptime and improve both productivity and profitability.

Benefits of Core Restore:

- Reduced downtime – 6-week turnaround delivery on restored endcap and housing units
- Save Money – Receive up to a $3,400 (USD) discount on a new housing *
- Guaranteed Quality – Extended warranty from date of restoration **

How the Program Works:

Contact us

Contact your Standard Locknut customer service representative at 1-800-783-6887 or email us at corerestore@stdlocknut.com for a quote request.

Return used housing (with endcaps)

Ship your current housing product to Standard Locknut for inspection. An expert will review your product to determine if restoration is possible.

Place order

Your Standard Locknut representative will apply your discount within 4 weeks of product inspection, if approved.

Standard Locknut core restoration...oftentimes a better option

For over 75 years, Standard Locknut has been a leading manufacturer of Made-in-USA specialty bearing housings, seals, accessories, and precision turned components. Our talented team of engineers, product designers, and customer service/support staff partner with you with one goal in mind... to maximize your bearing-related investments and minimize costly production downtime.

Usable Product - Standard Locknut will verify reworking the product and apply the "Core Restore" program discount*

 Unusable Product - Cannot be repaired due to extensive wear and damage, new quote will be provided at current market price.*

When contacting your Standard Locknut customer service representative, please provide the part number and quantity.

Precision | Performance | Partnership

Contact us today:

Sales: sales@stdlocknut.com Quotes: rfq@stdlocknut.com

1-800-783-6887 | stdlocknut.com